

monbulkrsl.org.au/dave-on-deck

Monbulk RSL Footy Tipping Issue 13, 2016

CRAIG ON TOP!

ONLY 3 PICKED 6!

THANKS FREQ!

First	88	CRAIG
Second	87	COL
	87	DON
Third	86	CASE
	86	DAVE
	86	GYRO
	86	WORM
Fourth	85	JILL
	85	MAREE
Fifth	84	DALE
Sixth	83	DUANE
Seventh	82	MAT S
	82	RON R
Eighth	81	BRENO
	81	MAT M
	81	MICK H
	81	NICK
	81	PETE B
Ninth	80	ANDY S
	80	DARREN
	80	GRANT
	80	KAZ
	80	RACHEL
	80	STEVE
	80	TRACEY
Tenth	79	AMBER
	79	BRYAN
	79	DANNY
	79	TED
Eleventh	78	EILLEN
	78	PETE F
	78	RON M
	78	VINNIE
Twelfth	76	DARKY
	76	MICK B
Thirteenth	75	GRACE
Fourteenth	73	FANG
	73	IRENE
	73	MARK
Fifteenth	70	ARTIE
Sixteenth	69	RYLAN
Seventeenth	65	GILBERT
Eighteenth	64	DAN P

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

~ Spike Milligan...

The best cure for Sea Sickness is to sit under a tree.

CRAIG'S TIME TO BE NERVOUS

Castanet time again as we hear Craig's knees knocking together, hoping he can ward off the hordes of tipsters waiting for just one mistake! Worm took a nose dive this week and dropped to 3rd, and as he is up north fishing I won't waste my time hanging s!@# on him. Col and Don are waiting patiently for their time in the sun, you don't win the tipping in June, though Darkie was in the lead for 17 rounds last year when he drew with Andy in the last round.

The bye rounds are in full swing with only 6 games to choose from and only 3 astute tipsters got them all correct, Darky, Dave and Andy with Dave having the closest margin and collecting the $15 prize, enough for 3.33 stubbies, Woo Hoo!

KO COMP

The remaining 3 tipsters all managed to pick correctly again this week and stay alive for another bash next week. Surely there must be a tough round coming up or maybe Gold Coast will knock off Hawthorn? That would sort them out! The reason for the eliminations is to get a winner so we can do it all again but these 3 stubborn KO'sters are not budging an inch, and good on 'em!

APOLOGY ROUND

With the well documented Brad Scott apology and the over documented Eddie McGuire apology I thought we should have a look at some famous apologies. Long time readers will remember Kevin Rudd's "sorry" round a few years back so here are a few more:

The Will Minson saga, when a comment he made about the mother of Port Adelaide's Danyle Pearce sparked a fourth quarter brawl. With guilt written all over his face, he apologised to Pearce and his family. He was suspended for one week.

AFL commentator Brian Taylor was stood down from radio commitments and underwent counselling after making a homophobic slur.

Taylor called Geelong's Harry Taylor "a big poofter" when Harry was celebrating his 150th match. The next time he got on air BT said, "I apologise for that and I sincerely regret any harm that I have caused. So, sorry for that."

Jason Akermanis was sorry for another insensitive verbal disaster, this time labelling the late Jim Stynes as "a nasty man", just days before Big Jims state funeral.

"I can't say sorry enough," Akermanis said on Adelaide radio FIVEaa. Akermanis, who won the Jim Stynes Medal in 1999, was sacked from his Sunshine Coast radio station Mix 92.7FM. He said he would have quit the show anyway, adding that the "$100 a week was not worth it".

THE "FAMOUS Old Dark Blues" last week went some way towards removing an infamous old dark stain on their otherwise proud history with Aboriginal players. Carlton formally acknowledged – almost 90 years after the fact – that a Blues regime had racially vilified a young Doug Nicholls. Mavis Thorp Clark's 1965 biography Pastor Doug exposes the ugly truth. His teammates were not eager to play with an Aborigine. No one would willingly give him a rubdown. There were complaints that, because of his colour, he smelt. "Doug was bitter about that, though he did not say anything."

JOKE OF THE WEEK

A nursery school pupil told his teacher he'd found a cat, but it was dead.

"How do you know that the cat was dead?" she asked her pupil. "Because I pissed in its ear and it didn't move," answered the child innocently. "You did WHAT?" the teacher exclaimed in surprise.

"You know," explained the boy, "I leaned over and went 'Pssst' and it didn't move"

INTERVIEW

Dave put his foot in his mouth a couple of weeks ago when he said to Don "If I don't get at least 5 right this week, you can interview me!".....I got 3, doh!

Don: That'll teach you to open your mouth.

D: Well, I was confident!

Don: Ha, dickhead.

D: Are you going to ask me a question?

Don: That's right, I forgot, now let me think.

D: Are you going to be long?

Don: I'll ask the questions thank you!

D: Go on then.

Don: Still thinking....got one! You'd have to be dreamin' to think you can win the comp.

D: That's not a question, but I have a good chance, in the whole season as well.

Don: Tin ass luck there.

D: Better than your effort!

Don: I've got you covered in the normal tipping though!

D: You are just one ahead!

Don: May as well be a mile ahead, you'll never catch me.

D: We'll see, any question yet?

Don: I'm working on it, don't be so impatient, and your pool game will have to improve if you expect to beat me and Case.

D: I've had my fair share of wins.

Don: A couple of lucky ones.

D: Like your horses.

Don: Hey, they do alright. I like to give them apples.

D: Does that make them run faster?

Don: I'll ask the questions!

D: Then ask one!

Don: Haven't thought of one yet.

D: Come on Don, wrack your brain, you've gotta at least ask one.

Don: I've got one! Is the sun over the yard arm yet?

D: Yes.

Don: Pisser, your shout!