QUOTE OF THE WEEK

~ WH Auden...We are here on earth to do good unto others.

What the others are here for, I have no idea.

CRAIG STAYS ON TOP

Craig's 5 correct tips this week was enough to keep him up the top on his own. As no-one picked 6 this week, thanks to the mighty Saints knocking off Geelong, the only movement on the tipping ladder was downwards! The twins cant be seperated, which isn't unusual, and Don slipped down a spot, leaving Col all alone in second as he makes his tilt at finally winning this comp.

The battle for last spot is in full swing with Gilbert desperately trying to out muscle Dan P into the cellar dweller position.....they both picked 1 this week.....St Kilda! So Dan holds sway for another week. Artie is also trying to inch his way south but these 2 lousy tipsters have got his measure I reckon! I have reminded them that it is just as hard to pick losers as it is to pick winners.

KO COMP

The remaining 3 tipsters all managed to pick correctly again this week and stay alive for another bash next week. I thought the Saints win may have sorted a couple out but they ignored that game and went for winners successfully. Gold Coast had a crack at the Hawks but fell short, maybe another upset this week will catch them up?

RICHMOND TO CONTINUE FINALS BOYCOTT INDEFINITELY

Richmond's senior players have driven a decision to continue the club's boycott of playing in a successful finals series for a record 16th straight year.

The Tigers made the extraordinary decision to stop winning finals back in 2002 after players complained that flights to Vegas and Europe were too expensive late in September.

"Requests were made to the AFL to move the finals series earlier so we could take full advantage of our Velocity points," a former Richmond player told The Greenfield Post late yesterday.

"The AFL refused to budge so the playing group have been stuck out on the high moral ground ever since."

Senior Richmond officials have thrown their support behind the players saying that standing by your principles is more important than winning.

"Richmond is built on the pillars of integrity, righteousness and decency. Winning probably comes like 9th or 10th on the list, so yeah," the club said in a statement yesterday.

"Until the AFL can move the finals or provide the playing group with a few Webjet vouchers we'll stand by our boys and the boycott."

JOKE OF THE WEEK

The teacher gave her fifth grade class an assignment:

Get their parents to tell them a story with a moral at the end of it.

The next day, the kids came back and, one by one, began to tell their stories. There were all the regular types of stuff: spilled milk and pennies saved.

But then the teacher realized, much to her dismay, that she had missed Janie. Janie, do you have a story to share?" "Yes ma'am. My daddy told me a story about my Mommy.

She was a Marine pilot in Desert Storm, and her plane got hit.

She had to bail out over enemy territory, and all she had was a flask of whiskey, a pistol, and a survival knife.

She drank the whiskey on the way down so the bottle wouldn't break, and then her parachute landed her right in the middle of 20 Iraqi troops.

She shot 15 of them with the pistol, until she ran out of bullets, killed four more with the knife, till the blade broke, and then she killed the last Iraqi with her bare hands.

"Good Heavens," said the horrified teacher. "What did your Daddy tell you was the moral to this horrible story?"

"Stay away from Mommy when she's been drinking."

INTERVIEW

This week I think we should grill Bryan about....well let's see!

D on D: G'day Bryan, thanks for your time.

B: You're welcome.

D on D: How are your sporting conquests going? You enjoy golf and sailing?

B: Yes, that's right, both going well.

D on D: Can I read anything into the fact they both involve sinking?

B: Noooo, well one of them does and hopefully not the other.

D on D: You are doing very well, considering your recent heart procedure.

B: Yes, back to full strength now.

D on D: Me too, I prefer VB. Never considered a heart transplant?

B: No, that is one thing I will not do.

D on D: Why not?

B: What if I got a Collingwood supporters heart? I am getting too old to change allegiances now, besides I have all my own teeth.

D on D: Fair enough. Your tipping isn't going too well.

B: Just a bad year, there are plenty behind me!

D on D: And heaps more in front of you.

B: There are 9 rounds left and I am 9 behind, get one back a week, you do the math.

D on D: That means you will draw with me!

B: Dreaming.

D on D: You've got more chance in the pick the whole season.

B: I have actually, and I will win that too!

D on D: Good luck with that and thanks for your time.

B: No worries....your shout?
