NOW I HAVE TO BEAT 52 OTHERS!

We welcome ten new tipsters to our ranks this season, total 53, a record for our tipping competition.

If you see any of these listed below wandering aimlessly around the club please point them in the right direction. In case you don't KNOW the right direction it is to the bar, to the letter box, to the tipping cards then try and bludge a biro from someone.

A big welcome to:

Clint
John DeB
Amelia
Helen
Jo
Misty
Shayne
Glen James
Brodee
Swags (Rob, the one with the hot rod parked in the corner)
Val
Good luck guys, this mob is tough to beat but maybe beginners luck?

KO COMP Blood Bath

It is only round 1 and we have had a slaughter at the hands of the KO Comp. Nine astute and well informed tipsters were KO'd straight out of the comp after just one pick. Good aren't we?

The rest will probably be KO'd this week and we can start KO Comp 2? (fingers crossed....) ☺

JOKE OF THE WEEK

An attractive blonde boards a plane to Perth.

As soon as the plane is in the air she gets up, walks up into first class and takes a seat.

The stewardess comes up to her and advises that she is in first class and should return to her seat in economy.

The blonde replied, "I am blonde, I am beautiful, I am going to Perth and I am staying here".

The stewardess reports this to the chief steward who agrees to have a word with her.

The chief steward requests she move back to her seat in economy but the blonde replied, "I am blonde, I am beautiful, I am going to Perth and I am staying here".

The chief steward reports to the co-pilot and he agrees to go and have a word with her. The co-pilot requests her to kindly return to her seat in economy but the blonde replied, "I am blonde, I am beautiful, I am going to Perth and I am staying here".

The co-pilot reports this to the pilot, who asks for him to point her out to him.

Upon seeing she is blonde he says that his wife is blonde, he can speak blonde, so he will go and have a word with her.

The pilot goes up to the blonde, whispers in her ear and she immediately gathers her things, gets up and returns to her seat in economy.

Amazed, the crew asked the pilot how he did it!

Easy said the pilot, I told her first class isn't going to Perth.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

INTERVIEW

I thought I should try and catch up on one of our new recruits into the tipping and I didn't have to look too far.

Going home after the Richmond v Collingwood match last night who do you reckon was spotted doing cartwheels down the main street?

You guessed it....Val!

D on D: Very impressive cartwheels Val.

V: Thanks...puff, puff.

D on D: I'll let yo catch your breath, obviously happy with the Tigers win?

V: They were brilliant! I love it when we kick the maggies freckle!

D on D: Two wins in a row, not a bad start?

V: Did the win against Carlton count?

D on D: Yes.

V: Pisser, I thought it was a practice run.

D on D: Anyway, how are you finding being in our tipping comp?

V: So far not too bad, I have got the first round jitters out of the way and now full steam ahead...look out!

D on D: I admire your confidence.

T: As long as the Tigers keep winning, so will I.

D on D: Then you've got no hope.

C: I beg your pardon!

D on D: Never mind. Who do you see as your main threat in the tipping?

V: Someone said Case was pretty good at it.

D on D: Who told you that?

V: Case.

D on D: Figures. Watch out for anyone with the surname Skipper and their relations!

V: There is heaps of them!

D on D: They are all keen tipsters. I think they bought a holiday house with what they gleaned from the comp!

V: Fair dinkum?

D: Well, maybe not quite. Do you mind if I give you some friendly advice?

V: No worries.

D on D: When the temperature drops around here you probably should cartwheel with clothes on.

V: Good advice, I'm freezing.

D on D: Want to borrow my jacket?

V: Yes please.

D on D: Thanks for yor time Val.

V: You're welcome.
