WE ARE A BRIGHT LOT, AREN'T WE?

What as happened?

Here we were in the first round picking winners willie nillie, with an average of 6.6 correct, then the wheels fell off! We will have to pick up our game, only averaging 3.3 correct this week!

If it wasn't for Amber, Brodee, Gilbert and Grant picking 6 we would all be down the gurgler. Well done those four.

What about last weeks leaders? Artie Darren and Dave picked 27 out of 27 correct last week. This week they picked 7 out of 27, DUDS! At least Don M managed to pick 4 this week to at least lift his head up a little bit.

Once again there were a few who didn't put a margin on the first game. Please try to remember to do this, it may cost you dearly in the end.

KO COMP CARNAGE!

The KO'sters copped a hammering this week with 9 biting the dust, I told you this gets harder! You no risten!.....Let's hope the remaining 14 can at least keep this comp running for a few rounds yet. A shame really, I was all prepared to pick the mighty Blues to thump the Pies this Friday night.....sigh.

LEAVE YOUR BALLS ALONE!

Our cricketers have done us proud, rearing the ugly head of cheating which has put a dampner on what was a ripper summer of cricket.

So far Steve Smith has announced he will not challenge his ban from cricket, saying he accepts it will send a loud message to potential cheats.

Dave Warner is expected to announce tonight if he will be challenging the ban.

Cameron Bancroft has also announced he has accepted his 9 month ban but that he got the sandpaper from Warnie's mum!

JOKES

A tourist in Vienna goes through a graveyard and all of a sudden he hears some music. No one is around, so he starts searching for the source. He finally locates the origin and finds it is coming from a grave with a headstone that reads: "Ludwig van Beethoven, 1770-1827."

Then he realizes that the music is the Ninth Symphony, and it is being played backward! Puzzled, he leaves the graveyard and persuades a friend to return with him. By the time they arrive back at the grave, the music has changed. This time it is the Seventh Symphony, but like the previous piece, it is being played backward. Curious, the men agree to consult a music scholar. When they return with the expert, the Fifth Symphony is playing, again backward. The expert notices that the symphonies are being played in the reverse order in which they were composed, the 9th, then the 7th, then the 5th.

By the next day the word has spread and a throng has gathered around the grave. They are all listening to the Second Symphony being played backward. Just then the graveyard's caretaker ambles up to the group. Someone in the group asks him if he has an explanation for the music.

"Don't you get it?" the caretaker says incredulously. "He's decomposing."

INTERVIEW

I was toying with the idea of interviewing Val after she recovered from he 62nd birthday. Ouch, someone slapped me over the back of the head.....Oh, 52nd birthday, just as well she didn't have her fist clenched, and asking her about the Tigers mediocre start to the season but instead I thought I would stick to the family theme and interview our new leader, Amber. (Note: just as well a Skipper wasn't leading, we would be up to round 11 before we finished interviewing that lot!)

D on D: Well done Amber, leading the comp!

A: Yeah, how about that, surprised the shit out of me.

D on D: Language dear.

A: Sorry Dad, I mean D on D.

D on D: The Tigers are only luke warm at the moment?

A: Don't you worry about that, they will be kicking freckle again before you know it.

D on D: I like your confidence, can they knock off the Hawks this week?

A: And pluck their feathers!

D on D: Fair enough, but can you keep kicking freckle in our comp?

D: Naturally, I think the girls will surprise you this year, we rule!

D on D: Ok, thanks for your time.

A: No worries, GO TIGES!
