THE PERFECT ROUND

I believe it's the first time in the history of our illustrious footy

tipping a tipster has not only picked all 9 games correctly but has nailed the margin perfectly. Danny did just that, not only did he pick Freo to beat Geelong and Port to thump the Bombers and not forgetting The Kangas knocking off the Hawks he predicted the exact margin! 22 points.

I can hear you saying that sounds suspicious but I can assure you I took all the cards home Friday night and that is where they stayed. After marking his card I did check outside to see if I could detect some very large footprints near my windows (Danny is 6 foot 13) but it was all clear.

Well done Danny, you win $20 for your efforts. Artie and I had a quick meeting to see if we should pay out more for such a feat, but we decided bugger him! .....

WHO IS GOING TO CATCH RYLAN?

With many a gnarly, seasoned footy tipster amongst our fantastic 50 it has been up to a young smart arse upstart to show us how to do it! Rylan has continually shown us a clean pair of heels and leads our comp with 3 rounds to go. Who can catch him? I reckon 2nd to 6th have a realistic chance but if Rylan keeps picking winners they have 2 chances...Buckley and Nunn!

WHEN THE DUST SETTLES

After round 23 guess what? We get a week off. Yes folks, The AFL once again is giving a chance for the dust to settle, to give the finals teams a chance to clear up some niggling injuries and for us to forget about footy for one week.

Then fire the gun! Our finals footy tipping is underway with a large cash prize dangling in front of our hooters for the tipster who can pick the most wins in the finals series, always hotly contested and always going down to the wire this is a bit of stress and worry.....oops I mean fun to finish the season off. Entry tickets will be on the bar as soon as we know who is playing in them! (I know who won't be!....sad face)

Just so we don't get too complacent we will have the Final Countdown on Friday night 30th August where we will do the final pick the whole season count and award prizes for our tipping.

WHAT ABOUT THE ASHES?

How good is the Aussies thumping the Poms in the first Test. A great start to the Ashes tour. Pete Fraser alerted me to some comments from the UK's "The Sun" newspapers Chief Sports writer (re Jason Roy's dismissal) "Surely, considering the context of the match, this was the worst shot ever played by a top-order batsman in Test cricket" (re umpire Joel Wilson) "if you replaced him with an IKEA hatstand, while Wilson stood in your hallway for 5 days with a couple of overcoats draped over him, it would feel like a decent swap!"

INTERVIEW

It goes without saying that I will interview Danny and ask him about his perfect score this week. I will use all my journalistic guile and technique to unearth his formula for success.

D on D: G'day Danny, how the bloody hell did you do that?

D: Do what?

D on D: Don't play dumb mate, you know what.

D: I might know but I'm not telling.

D on D: You picked all 9 correct and nailed the margin...what the..?

D: Did I?

D on D: I'll ask the questions thanks Danny, but yes.

D: Cool man.

D on D: Do you know how hard it is to do that?

D: Pretty hard I reckon.

D on D: Pretty hard? Strewth it is damn near impossible!

D: Mission Impossible..ha ha...I did it.

D on D: Yes you did and you won $20.

D: Fair dinkum?

D on D: Yep.

D: What do you win if you pick 9 and don't nail the margin?

D on D: Ummm...$20.

D: Hardly seems worth it.

D on D: We had a meeting to give you more money, took a vote and it was unanimous.

D: How many were at the meeting?

D on D: Me and Artie.

D: Mongrels.

D on D: Don't be like that. Now you have to reveal how you did it.

D: I have to reveal it to who?

D on D: Another question Danny! To all our avid readers.

D: So to you.

D on D: Yes, but I write down what you say and people read it.

D: What people?

D on D: So many questions! The good people at the RSL and the good people who read it on our Monbulk RSL web site.

D: What I say will be on the internet?

D on D: I give up, are you interviewing me?

D: No. So me on the internet aye?

D on D: I will faithfully report it.

D: #@$%^&*^%&^$##@@

D on D: Apart from that. Thanks Danny.
