WE DIDN'T GET OFF LIGHTLY!

After basking in the glory of picking shloads of winners last week along comes another round full off upsets, taking a large bite out of our rearmost portion! After an amazing average of 7.65 right last week we have plummeted to 3.9 this week, with the Demons, Magpies, Port, Kangas and the Doggies all proving most of us know jack about footy.

To be fair Darky and Eilleen both got 7 which is a good effort considering the results and Gilbert got the same as Phil (6). Which isn't anything to brag about Gilbo!

With Collingwood, Western Bulldogs and Hawthorn being the only Victorian teams in the 8, it might be a miserable September in Melbourne, unless the Doggies make the GF of course. Footscray last won the flag in 1954, 61 years ago, about 3 generations without success! Wishful thinking? Will this be the headline at the end of the season?.....

PREMIERS 2015

WESTERN BULLDOGS

KO COMP

2 KO'sters were eliminated again this week with only 2 remaining, Pete Frazer and Mick Baldwin, with the husband and wife combo of Artie and Maree being eliminated. Mick and Pete aren't performing too well in the normal tipping, have a look at their position, lower...lower...there they are! Both on 20 and inseperable, maybe this week there will be a winner? OR, if both eliminated the prize jackpots to the next KO comp where all original KO participants are eligible (upon payment of another 10 oxford scholars).

ANZAC DAY BLOCKBUSTER

The traditional Magpies V Bombers clash turned out to be a fizzer with Collingwood winning with a leg in the air. Hirby should have sent his team out in raincoats! They would have coped better. Oh well, the maggies did play pretty good I suppose.....enough of that.

ENJOYING DAVE on DECK?

D on D is now available on the all new sparkling Monbulk RSL web site, including back issues, aren't we lucky? Plenty of info on the site, worth a look. Go to monbulkrsl.org.au and click on the D on D logo. If you are reading this because you done that, ignore this.

TIPSTERS INTERVIEW

It is hard to top a live interview from Turkey but this week I decide to interview Gilbert. Not only is he joint leader of the tipping but is recovering from a big ANZAC Day where, along with Mick, Darren and Gary, he cooked the gunfire breakfast for the Dawn Service attendees, was an active participant at the bar (not the serving side) and was cheering loudly during the footy match before doing his stint running the two up, along with Mick.

D on D: Thanks for finding the time for an interview Gilbert, not getting nose bleeds being on top of the ladder?

G: No worries mate. No, I am up where I belong.

D on D: You realise there are a few who would do anything to catch you.

G: Yeah, I know and you're one of 'em!

D on D: Who me? You did a great job on ANZAC Day.

G: Thanks mate, yeah Mick and Darren and Gazza were great, couldn't have done it without 'em.

D on D: I bet you and Mick were unbearable after the game.

G: We were. Where were you?

D on D: I was a bit tired and emotional so I scarpered right on the final siren.....

G: Chicken.

D on D: Got out when the getting was good I reckon.

G: You missed the best part, Mick and I gloating!

D on D: Anyway...did you win at two up?

G: No.

D on D: Oh, that's no good. How do you reckon your Magpies will go this year?

G: Is the Grand Final in October?

D on D: Yes

G: The mighty Maggies have it in the bag.

D on D: We'll see. Thanks again for your time Gilbert.

G: No worries I have to fly, got to grab some piss for home, get some food and turn the pump on, see ya.
